Our Cuboids

Cuboids address key workplace challenges by providing a structured system for organisation, streamlining workflows, and optimising space. They facilitate waste reduction and standardisation, ensuring consistency and quality. With clear labeling and designated storage areas, cuboids enhance safety and productivity while enabling visual management techniques. By promoting efficient access to tools and materials, they foster a culture of continuous improvement, empowering organisations to innovate and optimise their operations.

- Behaviours

CASE STUDY: Owen Mumford

“ Owen Mumford is a leading manufacturer of self-administered drug delivery systems with two manufacturing sites in the UK and third in Malaysia. Clarity was initially involved in coaching the senior leadership team in an Introduction to Lean and Visual Management course. Due to the success of this, they then decided to enrol all production personnel into our 5S workplace organisation workshops as well as facilitating numerous VSM workshops too. The implementation of these workshops has resulted in substantial cost savings across all their main product platforms. For example, in one product family alone, transport savings of £700,000 were eliminated after a successful Clarity project.”

Why choose our Cuboids when there are other options in the market?

When it comes to organising your workspace, Clarity's Cuboids stand out from the crowd. Sure, you could opt for cheaper alternatives, but why settle for less when you can have the best? Our Cuboids are not just about storing tools or materials; they're about efficiency, productivity, and peace of mind. Crafted with precision and attention to detail, our Cuboids are designed to meet your exact needs, ensuring everything has its place and workflows are optimised. With Clarity, you're not just buying a product; you're investing in a solution tailored to your specific requirements.
